TAKING CARE OF OUR ENVIRONMENT

Our recovery centres in Montréal and Sherbrooke process more than 60,000 tonnes of paper and board annually. This recycled material is used in turn by Kruger Inc. mills to manufacture publication papers and products under recognized brands such as Cashmere®, Scotties®, SpongeTowels® and White Swan®.

By focusing on the local market for collecting recyclable material and supplying mills with recycled fibre, Kruger Recycling minimizes its ecological footprint through reduced greenhouse gas emissions.

® Registered and TM Trademarks of Kruger Products, L.P. | Scotties registered trademark of Kimberly-Clark Worldwide, Inc., used under license.

A DIVISION OF KRUGER INC.

Founded in Québec in 1904, Kruger Inc. is a major producer of publication papers, tissue, lumber and other wood products, corrugated cartons from recycled fibres, green and renewable energy, and wines and spirits.

Kruger Inc. is also a leader in paper and paperboard recycling in North America. In the 1960s, at a time when the world was just starting to realize the benefits of recycling, Kruger's mills were already producing high-quality board from recyclable paper and board. This tradition of environmental consciousness and responsible resource management has long been a hallmark of the Company's history.
